Message from the President . . .

Winterim has come and gone. It was a seasonal highlight for some 90 ILR members, and was successful far beyond expectations. Those of us close to ILR have realized for some time that our expectations are only guesses.

So, another winter promises another spring, and spring promises another four weeks of ILR and another round of great educational and personal interest opportunities, as well as the social interaction that is an important part of the program.

Bob Frost's curriculum committee has worked hard and happily putting together outstanding courses that are here for you to consider. Some of the courses here have been done before, though some have different approaches to material on previously presented subjects. These differences are noted in the course description. The rest are brand new and give us new fields of interest. Enjoy!

Let us take a moment to consider the social aspects of ILR. It has often been observed that the coffee and lunch breaks are a very important part of the program. I hope no one will miss these exciting occasions to greet long time friends.

We want to recognize the willingness—even the eagerness—of our instructors to take part in ILR. Bradley professors, hobbyists, and professional people say they are only too happy to go with our requests if, indeed, they do not offer their services before being asked. Thank you, also, to all ILR members who served on various committees.

Bradley University's contribution to ILR is huge. Space and personnel are important, but the encouragement of every campus person we deal with is very warm and willing. I'm sure you join me in giving our thanks to all who have added to this enrichment of our lives.

—Wilson Schroeder
